

TAMMANY DECLARES FOR BRYAN AND SEWALL.

Sheehan's Resolution Indorsing Their Candidacy Is Carried by a Unanimous Vote.

Consideration of the Platform, as Adopted at Chicago, Left, as a Matter of Policy, to the State Convention.

Martin, Morgan, Scannell and Allen, the Only Ones of the Ex- ecutive Committee Opposed to Indorsement, Refuse to Be Recorded.

Tammany Hall declared for Bryan and Sewall at a meeting of the Executive Committee yesterday afternoon in the Fourteenth street headquarters.

Only four of the seventy-five committee-men present voted against the resolution. They were Chairman James J. Martin, Assistant Leader Charles F. Allen, of the Twenty-seventh District; Leader John J. Scannell, of the Twenty-fifth District, and Leader Rollin M. Morgan, of the Twenty-ninth District.

Not a word was said about the platform resolution presented by John C. Sheehan, and while most of the leaders have liked to have seen the platform amended, no attempt was made to amend Sheehan's resolution. His ideas of policy were respected.

2 o'clock until 6 o'clock the committee were in council.

Sheehan Offers the Resolution.
Mr. Sheehan arose immediately after roll call, and offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Executive Committee of the Democratic organization of the city and county of New York, in regular meeting assembled in Tammany Hall, do hereby approve the nomination of William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, for President, and Arthur Sewall, of Maine, for Vice-President of the United States as the Democratic candidates for the National Convention to be held in Chicago, and we place, our loyal and hearty support to their candidacies.

"It is well known," said Mr. Sheehan, "that the action of this organization is controlled by its members, and I am proud through the recommendation of its committees. This is the first committee meeting since the convention, and I may say its principal object is to consider the action of that convention."

Gold Men Were Outvoted.
"Its proceedings are history, and there is little use of referring to them except to say that the delegates who believed in what they considered 'sound money' were outvoted. Nothing was left of the gold men."

Done, however, by the New York delegates to influence the majority to adopt in the national platform the principles enunciated at the convention of this State.

"They honestly and courageously discharged their whole duty. The National Convention was one of the largest and grandest ever assembled in this country, and it must be said that it was representative in every respect. It did not agree with us. Two-thirds of that body adopted a platform that apparently meets with the disapproval of many Democrats. Like all productions of its kind, it has its good and bad points, and it is not to be wondered at that in this State a wide difference of opinion prevails as to what is the best financial system for the Government."

Mr. Sheehan then went on to say that to divide the Democratic party because the minority was not permitted to dictate to the majority would be unwise and undemocratic, and that the platform really provides for the restoration of silver to the place it occupied prior to 1873. The other provisions in the platform are in line with the fundamental principle of the Democratic party—the greatest good for the greatest number.

The Majority Was Honest.
Mr. Sheehan said he believed the majority were as honest in their convictions as the minority, and declared it was a good Democratic rule to abide by the decision of the majority.

"Tammany Hall," he continued, "the oldest Democratic organization in the country, will be true to its history and to the nominees of the Democratic party. I believe the great mass of Democratic and Independent voters in this State favor the election of Bryan and Sewall, and unless there is a great change in popular sentiment, the State will go Democratic."

"As between Bryan and McKinley there can be no hesitation. Bryan is with and of the masses; McKinley represents the ennobling of the masses to the greed of the classes. It seems to me there is no middle ground. The only course open to loyal Democrats is to stand by the Chicago ticket."

The speaker was greeted with great applause. Chairman Martin, calling Colonel M. C. Murphy to the chair, moved an adjournment, explaining his position as follows: "A majority of the New York delegates to the Chicago Convention have declared they will not support the ticket nominated by that body. The Grand Section and many of the members of the Tammany Society have declared likewise. Our German allies of the left are against the ticket."

"What course should be taken by the organization? Our State Committee has issued a call for a State Convention to be held at Buffalo within a few days to pass upon the action of the National Convention, and to nominate Presidential electors and candidates for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor. It seems to me therefore that our policy should be to await the action of the State Convention. There is nothing to gain by undue haste and everything to lose. Haste will embitter thousands of Democrats whose support we will need in the great local battle to be fought next year."

He was followed by Mr. Morgan, who seconded the motion for adjournment, and said he believed in the sentiments expressed by Mr. Martin, and believed he spoke the sentiments of a majority of the Democrats who lived in his district.

The motion for adjournment was lost by a vote of 4 to 71—Martin, Morgan, Scannell and Allen voting "aye."
County Clerk Henry D. Purroy seconded Mr. Sheehan's resolution, and reminded those present that the General Committee of the Thirty-fifth District—Purroy's home district—had proclaimed a policy of steadfast party allegiance two weeks ago, which was exactly identical with the one proposed for the central organization.

After saying that he was a free silver advocate, as has been charged, Mr. Purroy said that he was for the candidates just as soon as they were nominated, when he feared they were doomed to defeat no less sincerely than at the present time, when he is fully convinced they are assured of triumph. He argued for the resolution and against the Republican party as the organization of monopolists, trusts, centralization, force bills and know-nothingism.

Others Who Spoke.
He was followed by George W. Plunkitt, Charles F. Murphy, John B. McGoldrick,

JOHN C. SHEEHAN

MEN WHO TOOK PART IN THE TAMMANY RATIFICATION.

John J. Scannell, Amos J. Cummings and William Schaner, who spoke in favor of the resolution. Mr. Cummings declared his coat was off for this ticket, and he considered Bryan the greatest friend of the laboring man in this country. His whole course, in and out of Congress, had been in the interests of the plain people.

A standing vote was taken on the resolution and it was passed unanimously. Martin, Morgan, Scannell and Allen declining to be recorded. Each of them is leader of a district that is Republican.

Mr. Sheehan made the following statement in regard to the failure of the organization to accept the platform: "Personally, I am in favor of it, and I do not think that any one who gives it careful consideration can find anything objectionable in it. But Tammany Hall is a part of the machinery of the State organization, and it would be unwise for us to do anything that would embarrass the State convention."

Just as soon as the vote on the resolution was taken "Bob" Kelly had large pictures of Bryan and Sewall placed on the wall in front of the building. A loud cheer went up from the crowd that was passing through Fourteenth street. The large banner, with the names of the national candidates and space for the names of the men to be named at Buffalo will be put up next Monday.

The only other business transacted by the committee was to prepare the list of election officers to which Tammany is entitled at the next election and which will be filed with the Police Commissioners today.

WILL MEET IN NEW YORK.

Chairman Jones Calls the First Session of the National Committee for August 11 in This City.

Washington, D. C., July 31.—Chairman Jones has called the first meeting of the National Democratic Committee for August 11, in New York, in accordance with a virtual agreement made in Chicago. When the new committee organized it was impossible to fix the date of formal notification of the candidates. The committee adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. It being understood that the meeting should be held in time for the notification ceremonies.

Now that the date of notification has been fixed, Chairman Jones has performed his part of the agreement in summoning the committee together. At the coming meeting the location of headquarters will be determined and other details of the campaign will be discussed. The National Committee will take up the notification ceremonies.

BRYAN MAKES HIS DATE LIST.

He Will Leave His Home in Lincoln on August 7 for the East.

While in New York Mrs. Bryan Will Be the Guest of Treasurer W. P. St. John's Mother.

PLEASED AT TAMMANY'S ACTION.

The Candidate Was Notified of the Wigwam's Indorsement by Amos J. Cummings—His Comment Was "I Am Glad of It."

Lincoln, Neb., July 31.—William J. Bryan received this telegram—William J. Bryan: "The Tammany Executive Committee has just unanimously indorsed your nomination. My personal congratulations. Amos J. Cummings."

"I'm glad to hear it," was the candidate's only comment. Mr. Bryan devoted an hour today to the study of time-tables and railway guides. He then announced his traveling plan to be as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan will leave Lincoln on the Burlington road at 6 o'clock Friday evening, August 7, arriving in Chicago on Saturday afternoon. They will stop over Sunday and will leave Chicago on the Pennsylvania at a little before midnight on Sunday, reaching Pittsburgh on Monday night. They will stay over night in Pittsburgh in order to get a good rest and will leave for New York early Tuesday morning, arriving there at about 6:30 that evening.

While in New York Mrs. Bryan will be the guest of Mrs. St. John, mother of William P. St. John, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee.

Return Not Yet Arranged.
The National Committee will meet in New York at the time of the notification, and important campaign work will be discussed. From New York Mr. and Mrs. Bryan will go to Bath, Me., and spend a few days with the Sewalls. The return trip will not be arranged until after the New York meeting. Mr. Bryan is not making any dates for speeches at this time, and will not do so until after the National Committee has been consulted.

The meeting at the Lincoln Hotel last night of the Democratic State Central Committee was made interesting by the presence of Mr. Bryan. The committee spent an hour and a half listening to reports from its members as to the prospects for Democratic victory in their various districts, and a rosy view was taken by most of the speakers.

After the German Vote.
A number of committeemen told of Republicans who had joined Bryan clubs, or had otherwise declared for the Chicago ticket, while several of those who made reports admitted that the German population of Nebraska seemed unfavorable to free coinage. Suggestions were made that German speakers and silver campaign literature in German should be sent to the towns and settlements having a large population from the Fatherland.

Mr. Bryan remained with the committee a few minutes only. He made a few remarks concerning the necessity for party work, and then withdrew and went home. Omaha was selected as the place for holding the State convention, and the date was left to the Executive Committee.

HARRITY QUILTS POLITICS.

Ex-Chairman Forsakes Active Party Management, Though He Remains on the National Committee.

Philadelphia, July 31.—William F. Harberty, until recently the chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has retired from active politics. Mr. Harberty will continue to perform his duties as the member for Pennsylvania of the Democratic National Committee. Friends of the ex-chairman are not inclined to regard his action in the light of a repudiation of the Chicago ticket, and believe that he is not willing to take any part in the nomination of a third ticket.

Concerning his action Mr. Harberty said today: "It is true that I have determined to withdraw from active participation in political affairs. For several years past I have been accorded some prominence in the management and leadership of the Democratic party, but I now desire to take my place in the ranks, except in so far as I may have duties to perform as the Pennsylvania member of the National Committee."

"I shall continue to take a general interest in politics and shall always be ready to do whatever I reasonably and consistently can to promote the success of the Democratic party, but I shall absolutely refrain from any participation whatever in matters that relate to party organization and management."

Michigan's Chairman Will Resign.
Detroit, Mich., July 31.—Elliott Stevenson will in a few days resign as chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. The committee will be called together immediately thereafter, and Fred A. Baker will be elected to succeed him. C. F. Warner and S. A. Douglass, members of the committee from the First District, who are gold men, will also resign, and ex-Judge McGrath and Mr. Stevenson will be elected to succeed them.

IS MR. CROKER TO COME BACK?

Former Tammany Leader Showing Intense Interest in Politics.

Especially Wants Information Regarding the Bimetallic Movement in New York City—His Plans Still Unformed.

By Julian Ralph.
London, July 31.—Richard Croker was more anxious to ask questions about New York politics than to talk on his own account when seen at Wantage to-day. He looked the picture of rugged health and contentment, and I judge that life in the country fits his temperament exactly. He wanted to know:

"What's going on at home? What's

JAMES J. MARTIN

Mr. Hill doing? Who is talked of for Republican candidate? Has Tammany taken any action?"

When these questions had been answered he said: "That's interesting, very interesting!"

Then came the reporter's turn to ask questions. "What do you think of the situation?" was asked.

Knows Little of Politics.

"I've no opinion to express," said Mr. Croker. "I don't know anything about it. I'm not posted in politics, and it is impossible at this distance—if I read all the newspapers printed—to get a proper understanding of the situation. I am out of politics."

He was asked: "Do you favor Bryan?"

"I cannot express any opinion. It would not be right for me to express an opinion, as I don't know anything about it."

"Are you going back before the election?"

"I may go back before the election," replied Mr. Croker, "but I have not quite made up my mind."

Later, when asked the same question again, he said:

"I am considering it, but cannot say yet whether I will go back or not."

May Go into Politics Again.

"Will you take an active part in politics if you do go back?" was asked.

"Well, I cannot tell what I may do. That is for the future to determine."

It was evident that Mr. Croker is not as much out of politics as he was a month ago, when I last interviewed him. Then he asked no questions and showed no interest. To-day he very eagerly asked half a dozen questions, and showed the keenest interest in the answers, being especially eager to hear of the bimetallic movement in New York City. When it came his turn to talk he was just as much a clam as ever. Being hard pressed for some statement of his plans and opinions, he said he had been so misquoted by papers and so misrepresented that he had decided not to speak.

JOINT DEBATE ON SILVER.

Thousands Hear Senator Thurston and C. S. Darrow Speak at Madison.

Madison, Wis., July 31.—The campaign in the West was opened at the Monona Lake Assembly to-day. Ten thousand auditors were present and divided the applause between Senator Thurston, a gold man, and Clarence S. Darrow, of Chicago, who conducted the debate in the interest of free silver. The debate lasted about three hours, and each side thought its champion had carried the day.

Mr. Darrow adhered closely to the money question, but Senator Thurston often digressed to laud the Republican party, its history and its policy, and to criticize the Democracy. He also talked tariff to some extent. Mr. Thurston said:

"Free coinage would mean an absolute gift of $31,000,000 to the mine owners, and almost every silver mine is a stock concern across the Atlantic. How would this affect our debtor classes? There are 50 standard insurance companies in this country, 350 assessment insurance companies, 14,000,000 life insurance policies, 750,000 pensioners and 20,000,000 people with deposits in saving banks. Shall they be made to accept but half the obligations due them by the contract? The most infamous thing is not the opening of our mints to the free coinage of silver, but that the laborer will thus be obliged to take the cheapest dollar the manufacturer can pay him."

Mr. Darrow opened by asking: "What does the Senator propose as a panacea for American ills? Four years of the gold cure administered by McKinley (labeled of Cleveland) The Republican party asks us to accept a policy which it admits is wrong, but which it will rectify as soon as England gives it leave. Silver was demonstrated in 1873 at the bidding of the creditor classes. For the twenty years preceding that time the commercial split grew up all over the world and universal indebtedness was a consequence. Then the creditor class saw an opportunity of making $2 out of each $1 due it through the demonization of silver. That is our education. We are not rich for a recent dollar, but against a $2 dollar of Lombar and Wall streets. By demonizing silver one-half the money of the world had to do all the world. Of course, it would appreciate. Remonetization would not affect the dan-
